The Struthers Police Department has been recognized for Excellence in Policy and Training

Last year, officers of the Struthers Police Department responded to over 8,000 requests for assistance which ranged from criminal investigations, to mental health crisis, to animal complaints and violent assaults. To maintain a consistent and professional response, the department relies on comprehensive, up-to-date policies.

Recently, The Struthers Police Department was recognized by the Lexipol Connect program for achieving Bronze level for consistently and effectively disseminating policies to officers, issuing timely policy updates as laws change, and ensuring officers are trained on policies. Lexipol is the nation's leading content, policy and training platform for public safety agencies; the Connect program tracks The Struthers Police Department's performance on five metrics proven to measure success in policy management.

"Policy and regular training on policy is crucial to the success of the department. We are proud to be recognized by Lexipol Connect for continuously improving professionalism and safety" says Chief Tim Roddy.

The Struthers Police Department's excellence in policy and policy training enhances community safety by ensuring consistent, effective response based on national best practices.

"Police Departments using Lexipol policies are progressive agencies delivering the highest levels of service" says Struthers Mayor Catherine Cercone-Miller. "We are excited that our Police Department is delivering a standard of excellence through their policy efforts that reduces risk for our personnel and those we serve"
